

I think it is an invasion of privacy to get phone calls from business if you don't want them. Just because you have a phone does not mean anyone should be able to call can give a sales pitch. Same goes for e-mail and cell phones. If I want to know about a business I can find them and call them for what my needs are.